APPENDIX A

Billet Descriptions / Core Capabilities

CAREER PROGRESSION PHILOSOPHY:

The Career Progression Philosophy for the Marine Corps counterintelligence (CI) officer (MOS 0210) is built on the structured training plan for the CI-HUMINT specialist (MOS 0211). This plan consists of three levels of training. Levels A and B are entry and mid-level training, respectively, and take place at a formal learning center. Levels I training is accomplished through progressive training, exercises, deployments, and attending additional specialized schools. The objective of the training plan is to provide the knowledge, skills, and experience required to fill a variety of CI billets.

Most CI officers have previously completed Levels A and B Training as a CI-HUMINT specialist prior to their selection to warrant officer. When this is not the case, CI officers will attend the next available MAGTF Basic CI Course followed by the next available MAGTF Intermediate CI Course, Navy and Marine Corps Intelligence Training Center (NMITC), Damneck, VA., upon completion of the Warrant Officer Basic Course (WOBC).

From the baseline of required training for CI specialists, the training plan for CI officers consists of a variety of experiences and specialized schools that provide additional skills and qualifications to fill CI billets of increasing responsibility. CI officers can gain practical experience from exercises, deployments, and garrison CI activities. Exercises range from local, CI-HUMINT Company exercises, through CINC sponsored, OCONUS, theater-level joint task force (JTF) and combined exercises. Deployments often consist of MEU, MEB, and JTF deployments. Garrison CI activities involve matters such as CI aspects of physical security, antiterrorism and force protection training, and administration of CI/HUMINT programs. CI officers also enhance their skill level through attending a variety of specialized schools that address such topics as terrorism analysis, CI force protection source operations, intelligence photography, collection management, deception analysis, and intelligence debriefing.

CHAPTER 7

0210 Counterintelligence Officer

APPENDIX F

Level 1 Training

Purpose: Levels I training is accomplished through on-the-job training (OJT), exercises, deployments, and attending additional specialized schools. The objective of the training plan is to provide the knowledge, skills, and experience required to fill a variety of CI billets. From the baseline of required training for CI specialists, the training plan for CI officers consists of a variety of experiences and specialized schools that provide additional skills and qualifications to fill CI billets of increasing responsibility. CI officers can gain practical experience from exercises, deployments, and garrison CI activities. Exercises range from local, CI-HUMINT Company exercises, through CINC sponsored, OCONUS, theater-level joint task force (JTF) and combined exercises. Deployments often consist of MEU, MEB, and JTF deployments. Garrison CI activities involve matters such as CI aspects of physical security, antiterrorism and force protection training, and administration of CI/HUMINT programs. CI officers also enhance their skill level through attending a variety of specialized schools that address such topics as terrorism analysis, CI force protection source operations, intelligence photography, collection management, deception analysis, and intelligence debriefing.
